NEW COMPANY IS ORGANIZED.

Cloverport Foundry & Machine
Company, the New Manufacturing Firm.

FILE ARTICLES THIS WEEK.

Last week the Cloverport Foundry & Machine Company was organized and this week articles of incorporation will be filed with the Secretary of State and with the county clerk. The capital stock of the concern is $3,000, divided into 120 shares of $25 each. The following are the incorporators and stockholders and the number of shares owned by each: M. L. Christian, thirty shares; Roy Crawford, thirty shares; J. D. Babbage, twenty shares; P. D. Plank, twenty shares; and J. C. Nolte, twenty shares. The officers are: M. L. Christian, President; J. D. Babbage, Vice President; and J. C. Nolte, Secretary and Treasurer. The three last named of the stockholders are residents of this city and the first two will become residents, so the management of the affair will be strictly local.

Besides the $3,000 in common stock held by the above named parties, there is $1,500 of preferred stock owned by other citizens of Cloverport. J. A. Barry, who owns some preferred stock, is Superintendent of Construction for the company's plant and is proving to be the right man in the right place.

The new company will manufacture and repair all kinds of machinery, manufacture castings, screen wire and wire novelties, wire and light iron work. The plant will be located on the lot just east of the old Bobbin factory, near the L. H. & St. L. shops, and work will begin on it at once.

A MORE ABLE MINISTER

Than Rev. T. F. Walton Cloverport
Has Never Known, Says One of His Congregation.

Rev. T. F. Walton left last Thursday for Livingston, Ky. He will spend Friday with his children, Cecil and Ada Franklin Walton.

Rev. Walton, who was pastor of the Lucile Memorial Presbyterian church, of this city, for seventeen months, has been called to Ebenezer Presbyterian. He will preach at Mt. Carmel on the second and Ebenezer on the third Sunday. Besides these churches he has been offered another field at his old home at Barbourville. He has also had a call to Iowa, but has made no arrangements for the future.

Since Rev. Walton has been associated with this church he has had calls to larger fields, where the remunerations were almost double, but he refused that he might try to build up and strengthen this church.

Cloverport has never known a more able minister. He is a theologian such as few towns this size can boast, his prayer meeting talks were both interesting and instructive and would have done credit to any minister of twice his experience. His sermons were replete with forcible thought and eloquence expressed in an affable, effective manner.

We regret that circumstances were such he thought best to resign. May success attend him and may he find in his new field that he is not laboring in vain. We congratulate any church that may be so fortunate as to secure his services. Lucile Memorial's loss will be another's gain.

R. F. D. ROUTE IS ASSURED.

Over 1,000 People Out From This City Will be Benefited
by the Service.

LARGER PART NAMES SECURED.

Considering that the larger part of the number of petitioners necessary to obtain rural free delivery service has been secured, it is safe to say that a route out from this city is assured. The proposed route will start at this city, go out by Tar Fork and Mattingly, thence to Hardinsburg and then back to this city on the Hardinsburg and Cloverport turnpike. Both the post-office at Tar Fork and the one at Mattingly will probably be discontinued and it is estimated that over 1,000 people will be benefited by the service. The carrier will leave the Cloverport post-office early in the morning. The route will be known as Route No. 1 and will be about twenty-three miles long.

Most of the people living along the proposed route are farmers and all who have signed the petition asking for the free-delivery service, realize the great benefit it will be to them, as some of them live as far as five miles from the nearest post-office. To furnish a mail box, approved by the government, and place it on the highway traveled by the carrier is the only expense to be defrayed by each family served.

Dr. Wm. Howard, of Mattingly, after several weeks' diligent work, has secured the names of the petitioners on the part of the route out by Mattingly to Hardinsburg. L. V. Chapin, of near this city, is arousing the interest of the farmers who live on and near the Hardinsburg and Cloverport turnpike and hopes to secure the remainder of the necessary petitioners in a short time. When his work is completed there is little doubt but the route will then be established by the government. Both Dr. Howard and Mr. Chapin deserved much credit for their efforts bearing toward this end.

EXHIBITS FROM BRECKENRIDGE

And Meade Counties to Include Paint
Clay, Brick, Brandy and

One of the distillers is to give away samples during the exposition. Mr. Willett is developing a large bed of Portland cement material from which he hopes to make an exhibit.

Paint clay, in paying quantities, has been unearthed near Stephensport, Breckenridge county, and a display of it is to be made by John Adair, in the 6,000 square feet reserved for the Kentucky Exhibit Association in the Mines and Metallurgy Building at the St. Louis World's Fair next year.

A model of the Brice Railroad Tunnel kiln, used by the Central Clay Product Co., at Cloverport, is to appear in the Kentucky exhibit at the exposition, together with samples of the clays used and a number of brick made from them.

MORE WORK FOR CANNERY.

Polk Packing Company Will Handdle all Kinds Late Fruit and Vegetables.

PROGRESS OF OTHER PLANTS.

The Polk Packing Company has advertised for twenty-five car loads of apples which they will use at their branch canning factory in this city. They will also can all the late fruit and vegetables they can buy, such as pears, plums, peaches and pumpkins.

On account of the scarcity of tomatoes the cannery here has not had a steady run, but still it has done better than a number of canning factories in this section of the country.

The Charleston Canning Company's plant, at Charleston, Ind., which has a capacity of 30,000 cans a day, has canned only 1,000 cans daily, for lack of tomatoes. Ralph Polk, of Greenwood, Ind., manager of the Polk Packing Company's main factory and its four branches, was in the city Saturday, en route to Mound City, Ill. Mr. Polk is pleased with the success of the local branch factory, for a new plant, as are the citizens of this city, who own several thousand dollars worth of stock in the concern.

F. D. Whiteneck, manager of the local factory, went to Greenwood, Ind., Thursday in response to a message announcing the illness of his wife, and E. C. Richey, the Polk Packing Company's expert capper, has his position.

Cloverport's two other new manufacturing industries, the Cloverport Foundry & Machine Company's plant and the Murray Roofing Tile Company's factory, are in a fair way to begin operations in the near future.

The foundations for the Cloverport Foundry & Machine Company's plant were laid last week and work has begun on the building, which is located on the lot just east of the old Bobbin factory west of town. The building will be a frame, 30 x 60 feet, and will be used as a foundry building until a more substantial structure can be erected. Part of the machinery for the plant arrived from Franklin, O., last week and will be placed in position in the building when it is completed. The work of getting the plant in shape for operation will be pushed as rapidly as possible. They expect to be ready for business by October 1.

The Murray Roofing Tile Company's factory is practically ready to begin operations. A switch is being laid on the south side of the factory from the Henderson Route's main track, from which to unload the fire clay from Fenley. Gas has been piped to the main kiln and the greater part of the work done on the machinery. The delay in the shipment of some special machinery for the plant is the main hindrance to its starting up.
